

PINCHAS HODADAD

FRONT-END DEVELOPER

Never stop learning. Loving every step of the way.

A while ago, I have been through a career change to programming and discovered my true passion. Programming demands attention to detail, problem solving and the use of creativity. A truly perfect blend. Moreover, being a self learner and in my thirst for knowledge I always want to learn something new and improve myself. I am obsessed with pixel perfect UI, layouts and responsive web design. I have great communication skills. I work great in teams. I am truly a positive person to be around. With my dedication, passion and on going enthusiasm, I am certain I'll be a valuable asset to you.
